Aqitas Solutions Receives 2020 CRN IoT Innovators Award

A Company's continued success and expansion of IoT solution portfolio recognized for third consecutive year

February 2, 2021

ROSWELL, Ga. – Aquitas Solutions, a leading provider of Enterprise Asset Management (EAM) and IoT solutions that optimize asset intensive industries, announced today that they have been recognized by CRN, a brand of The Channel Company, as a 2020 IoT Innovators Award winner. Aquitas first earned recognition from CRN in 2018 for their pioneering use of IoT in asset management – integrating IBM's Maximo Enterprise Asset Management solution with PTC's ThingWorx Industrial Internet of Things (IIoT) platform to automate maintenance action based on real-time condition monitoring rules and alerts.

In 2020, a year marked by countless challenges, Aquitas continued to focus and even expand their efforts in IoT. Leading the charge to drive innovation and operational change for customers, they introduced an entire portfolio of IoT and AR solutions that extend current maintenance best practices. These solution offerings cater to the needs of companies across all industries and leverage existing assets, sensors and systems along with new technologies to enable digital transformation.

Hosted by Reliabilityweb.com, MaximoWorld is the largest cross-industry gathering of Maximo and Asset Management professionals. The conference, now in its 19th year, attracted over 1,100 users in 2019, both technical and functional, from 32 countries, as well as business executives and process experts from a variety of industries. In a year marked by isolation, MaximoWorld 2021 will bring the community of professionals back together and bolster the invaluable connections built.

Being recognized by CRN is a testament to the hard work that Aquitas has invested in IoT and the knowledge they've acquired with delivering these best-in-class solutions.

"The phrase 'Innovators Award' is particularly special about this recognition," commented Jeff Brown, Partner at Aquitas. "Instead of focusing on software and tools, Aquitas provides value in our innovative business solutions across software platforms. Customers shouldn't have to care about the technical details...that's our job."

Aqitas will continue to drive maintenance excellence with these innovative technologies and support maintenance organizations in their journey toward digital transformation. The complete IoT Innovators Award list is featured on CRN's website.
